PROJECTS

Automatized System for Political Elections (Golang)

- Created a maintainable program to automate voting and save the data
- Implemented new well documented data types during development to make the program more efficient & easier to modify
- Handled multiple files (during the testing procedure) containing voters' IDs & information about the political parties
- Easily connectable to SQL databases for real-life usage

Tour Package Creator (Python)

- Wrote a modular python program utilizing Object-Oriented Programing to generate tour packages based on the information given by the user (most importantly a kml file representing a map)
- Implemented a Graph data structure to handle all the information easily and efficiently as well as several algorithms to find optimal solutions for each particular case
- The output files can be visualized in Google Earth or in a webpage (as a network visualization) using Pyvis library
